The Foundation Center http://fdncenter.org	The Foundation Center’s tagline is “Your Gateway to Philanthropy on the World.” From this home page, you can access their “Finding Funders” web page (provides links to over 2,000 grantmaker web sites including private foundations, corporate grantmakers, public charities, community foundations), the “Learning Lab” (provides common grant applications, a proposal writing course, etc.), the “Philanthropy News Digest (PND) with its Request for Proposals bulletin (a list by category of funding opportunities), and much more.
U.S. Nonprofit Gateway http://www.firstgov.gov/Business/Nonprofit.shtml	Subhead reads “A network of links to Federal government information and services.” A huge web site that is very useful because you can search for information and/or funding opportunities by Federal dept./agency or by category, i.e., “grants,” “volunteer, partnering,” etc.
Internet Prospector http://www.internet-prospector.org/	This is a good preliminary fund-finder’s resource that lists foundations/non-profits/corporations by name/address/email and provides brief description of what each does and what funds are available.
