

2010 POP/IACA Conference

September 27–30, 2010

Arlington Convention Center
Arlington, Texas

Analysis is the most critical step in the problem-oriented policing process...

Crime analysis is essential to effective problem-oriented policing. To strengthen this connection, the Center for Problem-Oriented Policing and the International Association of Crime Analysts are co-sponsoring the 2010 International Problem-Oriented Policing and Crime Analysis Training Conference, with support from the U.S. Department of Justice Office of Community Oriented Policing Services \(COPS\).

Featuring:

- Eighty-plus training sessions, ranging from fundamentals and foundations to advanced tools and tactics
- 2010 Herman Goldstein Award for Excellence in Problem-Oriented Policing
- Forums and networking functions
- Exhibitors
- Hands-on computer lab training

The conference is an opportunity for analysts and police officers at all levels to improve their abilities to analyze crime and disorder problems and develop and implement more effective responses to them.

Conference Information: Registration and hotel information can be found at the conference web site at www.popcenter.org. Conference questions can be directed to the Center for Problem-Oriented Policing at events@popcenter.org or 704-788-8302.
