

THE PRESIDENT'S TASK FORCE ON 21ST CENTURY POLICING

Christina Brown

Christina D. Brown is a 27 year old social justice educator and activist who hails from Columbus, Ohio where she was raised by her mother alongside her two older brothers. In 2005 she graduated from Mifflin High School and began her undergraduate tenure at the University of Cincinnati. There she double majored in Africana Studies and Political Science. During her collegiate career she led a myriad of campus organizations, and in 2010 had the honor of serving as the student keynote speaker during the 19th annual Afrocentric graduation ceremony, Tyehimba. Upon finishing undergrad, she served as an AmeriCorps member with Public Allies as an apprentice, and as a 2nd year Fellow. In 2012 she successfully graduated from the program and accepted a position with a local nonprofit organization. Brown was recently elected President of the Walnut Hills Redevelopment Board of Directors, and named one of 35 honorees of the 2014 Rising Stars by the YWCA of Greater Cincinnati. When she's not serving on committees, she enjoys reading random books, blogging erratically, and traveling. Brown aspires to inspire and equip her generation with the tools to build equity for all, through leadership development, storytelling, and community building.
