Bill Schrier

Bill Schrier chairs the Washington State Interoperability Executive Committee (SIEC) and serves as the primary point of contact for the FirstNet effort in the State. He evangelizes open government through efforts like data.wa.gov and data.seattle.gov. He works from the Office of the Chief Information Officer (OCIO) of Washington State government.

Schrier retired in May, 2012, after over 8 years serving as Chief Technology Officer (CTO) for the City of Seattle. He has previous experience as a manager of voice, public safety radio and data networking for the City of Seattle, and as a police patrol officer in the City of Dubuque, Iowa. Schrier is a retired officer in the United States Army Corps of Engineers and holds a Masters in Public Administration (M.P.A.) from the University of Washington Evans School.

Schrier writes a blog about the intersection of technology and government at http://schrier.wordpress.com and tweets at www.twitter.com/billschrier.

E-mail: bill@schrier.org (personal) and bill.schrier@ocio.wa.gov (official)